FINDS WIFE STRUGGLING IN ARMS OF GUEST: OIL MAN KILLS ARMY OFFICER

Mines Attacked In Western Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The miners' strike in all union districts, both anthracite and bituminous, is 100 per cent effective, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared today after going over reports to him from union leaders.

"Every man ordered out has gone out, and is staying out," Mr. Lewis declared. "From the non-union districts where we have hopes of sympathetic action by unorganized men, my reports are scattering and insufficient to allow me to make a statement."

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Chairman Nolan, of the labor committee, which has been hearing testimony in connection with the nation-wide coal strike, addressed telegrams late today to operators in Indiana, Illinois and eastern Ohio, telling them that the United Mine Workers through John L. Lewis, president, had expressed a willingness to meet a representative body of the central competitive field.

PITTSBURG, PA., April 4.—First disorders in the western Pennsylvania coal strike district were reported from Fayette and Washington counties this morning, where, the authorities stated, high tension electric wires, carrying current for coal mines, had been cut and a detail of state police had been called out to disperse a crowd endeavoring to induce non-union men to leave their work.

Miners Forced To Return Home

First indications that mine property had been attacked was found at the Mathers' mine, in Washington county, across the Monongahela river from the Fayette field. High tension wires of the West Penn Power Company, providing the plant with power, were cut and the miners who reported for work were compelled to return home.

Underground wires of the trolley system, which carry the men of the Maxwell mine in Fayette county to their work, also were cut, and the cars were unable to operate.

State Police Called Out

The state police were called from their station at New Salem and dispersed a large body of men who had marched to the Palmer mine from the strangers were endeavoring to induce the men who do not belong to the union to quit work. Sheriff Shaw accompanied the troopers. After the crowd had dispersed, the Palmer miners returned to work, it was stated.

Another march today was on the Lambert mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company by a large party of men said to have moved from Leckrone and Edenborn mines of the same company, which were closed by the strikers late yesterday. The Lambert men, it was reported in Uniontown, refused to join the march and continued at work.

Non-Union Stronghold

The Fayette county field, which includes the important Connellsville coke region, has long been looked upon as the non-union mining stronghold of western Pennsylvania, and particular efforts are being made by the United Mine Workers to unionize it.

Four important plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, the coke subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, and five independent plants were listed today as closed by union activities.

Ten other plants, all independents, were said to be affected by the strike, but operating in part.

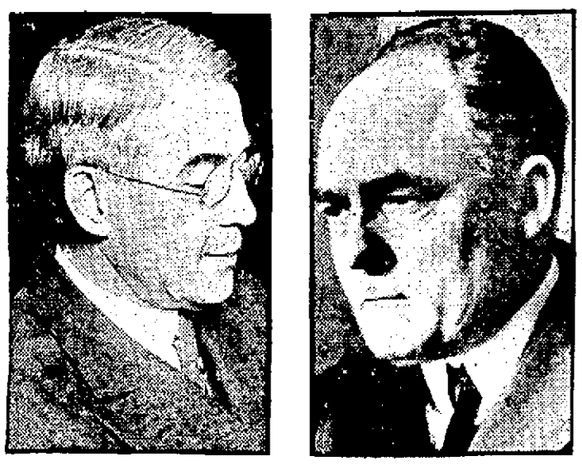

Three pick plants, long idle, were placed in operation today, to provide work, it was stated, for men who did not care to join the union and who would not work in home plants after they had been closed.

Seek Regular Work

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Miners' demands for a six-hour day and five-day week, issues involved in the national coal strike, were described by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in continuing his testimony today before a house committee, as largely a move to force regularity of employment.

"Men employed by the day," he said, "would receive the same wages they are now getting and put in less time, but the miners who dig coal would be paid as they are now for the number of tons of coal they produce.

CHITA TROOPS AND JAPS IN BATTLE

TOKIO, April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Special dispatches from Vladivostok today report a clash between Japanese troops and forces of the Chita government, when 800 of the latter attacked the Japanese near Spassk, about 100 miles from Vladivostok, following a demand by the Japanese to disarm. Eighty of the Chita soldiers were reported killed.

Later the Chita troops attacked in force with field guns, and fighting is continuing along the Ussuri railway, the report said.

Willard Testifies Before Committee To Refute The Testimony Of McAdoo

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Figures showing the railroads of the country moved only two per cent more traffic in 1918 than in 1917, were cited by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, before the senate interstate commerce committee today to refute recent testimony of William G. McAdoo, former director general of railroads, to the effect that the roads "broken down in the latter year ... being placed under government control. Mr. Willard appeared at the resumption of the committee's investigation into the general railroad situation.

Says Railroads Have Not Broken

Asserting he was unable to "find anything in the record to justify the statement that the railroads in this country have ever broken down, either before, during or since federal control," Mr. Willard declared the "serious situation" which developed under the war load in 1917 "is rather be attributed to a failure, if not a break-down, of our system of railroad regulation as then existed."

Moved Only Small Percent More

Former Director General McAdoo has pointed with pride, and justly so," Mr. Willard continued, "to the record of accomplishments of the railroads under his direction during 1918, but these figures show that the same railroads that moved 420,000,000,000 ton miles in 1917, moved only 440,000,000,000 ton miles in 1918, or about two per cent more. I submit that a difference in accomplishment of only two per cent between the two periods is hardly sufficient to indicate a break-down in the one year and a satisfactory accomplishment in the other."

Quoting from President Wilson's address to congress in January, 1918, in which he stated that the taking over of the roads was "not because of any dereliction or failure on their part, but only because there are some things which the government can do and private management can not," Mr. Willard declared the former president clearly showed thereby that he did not feel the roads "had failed to do all that could be expected of them under the circumstances."

Financial Condition Outstanding Reason

"The financial condition of the carriers, resulting from mounting costs of operation in the face of a fixed basis of earnings," he added, was one of the "outstanding" reasons why the government took over their control.

Despite the "congestion and confusion" which naturally followed the country's entrance into the war, Mr. Willard said, the railroads showed an effective capacity for co-operation under their executives' railroad war board in 1917, solving many difficult transportation problems, he said, and handling a volume of traffic 127,000,000,000 ton miles greater than that handled two years before.

WHY OPERA STARS FAIL IN MARRIAGE

WHY are so many grand opera prima donnas unsuccessful in love in real life?

Science furnishes the answer. Frederick Pierce, a famous psychologist, who by study and clinical research has found the key to human conduct, has analyzed these five outstanding cases:

GANNA WALSKA, thrice married, now in an international divorce battle with Alexander Smith Cochran, carpet millionaire.

GERALDINE FARRAR, who last summer began divorce proceedings against Lou Tellegen, actor, who she married in 1916.

MARGARET MATZENAUER, who divorced her first husband, Ferrari Fontana, and is now separated from Floyd Glatzbach, her chauffeur-husband.

AMELITA GALLI-CURCI, who divorced her artist-husband, Luigi Curci, two years ago and then married Homer Samuels, her accompanist.

LINA CAVALIERI, who was divorced from her millionaire, Robert W. ("Sheriff Bob") Chanler, and is now the wife of Lucien Muratore.

Following is Pierce's article, viewing these cases written expressly for NEA Service:

BY FREDERICK PIERCE
Analytical Psychologist, Lecturer and Author of "Our Unconscious Mind How to Use"

NEW YORK, April 4 Opera prima donnas, like many artists, so often go wrong in selecting mates because they are their own objects of chief importance.

In their profession they personify the emotion of love. They are heroines to the world, and wish to be loved by the world.

Creative temperament grows out of a certain disbalance in the internal secreting glands. Without this disbalance there is no artist.

It may be seen in great lawyers physicians and business men. The reason, however that these latter are more likely to stick to the conventional path is that their discipline of training strengthens their ability to make a successful compromise.

The average artist, dominated by glands which produce an excess of imagination and instability, cannot compromise.

The prima donna is so egocentric—self-centered but not necessarily selfish—that she hasn't the humility to learn how to hold a husband's love.

Consider prima donnas who illustrat these conclusions:

Ganna Walska, is of stormy, intense, variable Slavic temperament. With her, storm is the essence of life. Nothing in the conventionalized man of society could fulfill more than temporarily the needs of her tempestuous temperament. The man that holds Walska needs great understanding and a temperament of tremendous vitality.

Geraldine Farrar and Lou Tellegen are two egocentric people, both their own love objects. Each is partially self-absorbed, No woman could be Tellegen's mate successfully, Farrar could adjust herself; he couldn't.

TRAGIC ENDING TO FASHIONABLE PARTY IN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Jean P. Day, former state supreme court justice, and prominent in financial circles of the state, today was held under $5,000 appearance bond pending an investigation by a coroner's jury into the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Beck, assistant commandant of Post field aviation station at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, who was killed early today at Day's home here.

Day told county authorities that he struck the officer on the head with a revolver after finding him in his home attempting to force his attentions on Mrs. Day. Beck was instantly killed when the revolver was accidentally discharged, Way said. The impact of the blow caused the weapon to explode, he declared.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Lieutenant Colonel Paul W. Beck, commandant of Post Field, the aviation section of Fort Sill, Oklahoma, was shot to death here early today in the fashionable residence of Jean P. Day, widely known oil operator. Day is held at his home in custody of a deputy sheriff, pending investigation.

According to a statement issued by R. W. Dick, Day returned to his house after escorting home a number of guests which his wife earlier had entertained at cards and found Mrs. Day struggling in the arms of the army officer. Dick, who is an intimate acquaintance of the family, said Day authorized the statement.

Lieutenant Colonel Beck had long been a close friend of the Days. He came here yesterday by airplane from Fort Sill to be one of the guests at the card party last night, according to Dick, and was left alone with Mrs. Day when her husband saw their friends home in his automobile.

Upon Day's return home, Dick said, the former peered through a porch window and saw his wife fighting to break the aviator's hold on her. He rushed upstairs and obtained a revolver, Dick asserted, and returned to the room, where the couple were still struggling.

Beck made a motion as if to strike Day, continued Dick, and Day struck him over the head with the revolver, the gun exploding. Beck fell to the floor and was dead before police arrived. The commanding officer at Fort Sill has been notified.

Mrs. Day this morning was in a state bordering on nervous collapse and would make no statement concerning the affair.

Day has been prominent in political and financial circles in Oklahoma for many years. He was a member of the supreme court commission and one of the two men who framed Oklahoma's first code of statutes. He is fifty years of age and president of the Foursome Producing and Refining Company and vice president of the Centennial Asphalt and Petroleum Company.

He was active in the political campaign of former United States Senator Thomas P. Gore.

Mrs. Day is said to be a few years younger than her husband. They have one child, a daughter, studying at the University of Oklahoma.

Lieutenant Colonel Beck was one of the first four aviators in the United States army. He has been in the service since 1899, according to the post adjutant at Fort Sill. Beck went to Fort Sill from Arcadia, Florida, in July, 1921. He is said to have been a widower.

3 Killed And 30 Hurt In Bomb Blast At Banquet

BUDAPEST, April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Three were killed and thirty others injured when a bomb exploded at a business men's banquet in the Democratic Club here last night. The explosion occurred just after 600 invited guests had been seated, but before the members of the opposition party had arrived.

State Police And Guards Placed At Mines In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH, PA., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Indications of the actual standing of the non-union mines in western and central Pennsylvania were expected to be available today, operators and union officials having been unable thus far to determine the extent of the walk-out in unorganized territory. The Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association will hold its monthly meeting today, but Commissioner R. W. Gardiner last night stated that he did not know whether or not any strike developments would be brought out. Robert Gibbons, president of District 5, United Mine Workers, had little information upon which to base an opinion last night, he stated.

District No. 2, composed for the most part of non-union territory, held the stage with reference to efforts. President John Brophy yesterday had information from various parts of the district that several thousand unorganized mine workers had joined the union cause. The placing of state police throughout Somerset county and additional company guards at the mine holdings of non-union interests, he declared, indicated that the operators were fearful of the effect of the appeals of the organizers might have on their workers.

No reports of disorders have reached state police headquarters at Greensburg.

Bandits In Gun Battle; One Is Captured

FAUCLAIRE, MICH., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Three bandits held up the State Bank here this morning, obtaining $1,200, then engaged in a running fight with a posse, during which one of their number was wounded and captured when they were forced to abandon their auto near here. The other two took to the woods, and, according to reports, have been surrounded by the posse. The wounded man said he is Henry Griffin, 28, of Gary, Indiana.

Cosmetics, Peek-A Boo Waists, Short Skirts Issues In Court Trial

CORNING, ARK., April 4.—The lip stick case of Knobel, Ark., in which Miss Pearl Pugsley, 18 years old, seeks a writ of mandamus to set aside rules of the Knobel school board forbidding students to use cosmetics, wear low and peek-a-boo waists and short skirts, is set to come up before Judge W. W. Bandy in Clay county circuit court here April 6.

Miss Pugsley was dismissed from the elementary school at Knobel because she violated the rules, according to N. E. Hicks, principal. The girl and her friends claim that she had only talcum powder on her face.

National notoriety has been given the case and Miss Pugsley says she has received thousands of letters from all parts of the country and from persons in all walks of life sympathizing with her on the question.

The rules were promulgated by the school board last August at the beginning of the public school term at Knobel, and the case has been called up several times, but each time something delayed it.

It is reported that the school board would contend in court that the question is not for the courts to decide, but is solely under the jurisdiction of the board.

Ohio Operators See No Gain In Opening The Mines

COLUMBUS, O., April 4. (By the Associated Press) With lake trade supplied by large quantities of coal at the docks, factories well stocked, and West Virginia operators offering coal at prices less than production costs in Ohio, there is no reason for opening Ohio mines closed by the suspension order of the United Mine Workers, operators maintained here today. They said their attitude now is one of waiting for developments.

In announcing that they were being undersold in West Virginia, Ohio operators said the situation was unprecedented and that they had nothing to gain by attempting to resume production of coal.

Miners' union officials had little to say regarding conditions in the coal fields excepting that they were satisfied with the progress made and that the cessation was being carried out according to plans.

Radio May Soon Rival St. Bernard Dog As Rescuer

GENEVA, April 4. (By the Associated Press) Radio may soon rival the St. Bernard dog as the savior of mountain climbers lost in the Alps. After twenty years of experimenting, Jean LaCarbe, a French engineer, connected with the observatory on the summit of Mount Blanc, has perfected radio apparatus capable of resisting the severe atmospheric changes of the high altitudes which break ordinary wireless instruments. The suggestion is made that climbing parties hereafter carry small wireless outfits so they can obtain quick help through the Mont Blanc observatory if necessary.

One military officer and six police, of whom three were Catholics, were killed and a number of other police wounded.

GOES WITH GUN IN EACH HAND TO RECOVER ROLL; SHOT DEAD

Denver Keels, 26, colored, employe of the Cambria Clay Products Company at Blackfork, Lawrence county, near the Scioto county line, was shot and killed Sunday afternoon about four o'clock when a charge from a shot gun entered his back just under the right shoulder. The identity of the gun-user is unknown. Lawrence county officers who visited the scene of the shooting Sunday evening and Monday have under arrest a colored man and his wife and thirteen-year-old daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Scott and Mabel Scott, and also a white woman found at the Scott home. An inquest is to be held at the Ironton court house Wednesday morning when an effort will be made to learn who fired the fatal shot.

According to Sheriff Dement of Ironton, who went to the scene of the shooting Sunday evening, Keel, who is married and lives at Blackfork, went to the Scott home earlier in the day and when he returned to his home found $40 missing from his clothes. Sheriff Dement says that Keels then armed himself and made his way back towards the Scott home with the intention of finding the $40 and the person who had it.

Ed Quick, white, of Black Fork, told Sheriff Dement that he drove Keels to within a short distance of the Scott home, where he left him.

Quick also said, it is claimed, that Keels walked only a short distance down the road toward the Scott home when he heard the report of a gun and investigating, found Keels dead in the road. Keels was found in the road with a gun in each hand when the sheriff arrived on the scene several hours later, his body not having been touched. His hip pocket was found cut and it is thought the money was taken from it.

Monday when officers visited the scene again an old shot-gun was found on the hillside some distance from the Scott home.

Keels was buried Tuesday morning at Blackfork.

City Physician Asks For More Money; Reports Made

The principal business before the city board of health at its regular monthly session Monday afternoon was consideration of a proposed increase in the salary of the city physician, urged by reason of the greatly increased service demanded of that official. After a lengthy discussion the board indicated it favored the increase but final action was deferred until some plan is worked out to provide the funds necessary.

The report of Dr. T. C. Crawford for the month of March gave an insight to his increased duties and why he is asking that his pay be boosted. The report showed that during that period he made 309 house visits and had 68 office calls besides a number of other cases.

The report of Dr. O. D. Tatje, health commissioner, for March was received and filed. The contagious diseases listed below were reported during the month: Scarlet fever 2, diphtheria 1, small pox 3, influenza 3, trachoma 13, pneumonia 1, measles 1, chicken pox 1. The commissioner issued 49 certificates for entrance to school and made 17 physical examinations for permission of school children to work.

Plumbing Inspector William West reported 158 inspections during March and collections during the same period of $146.

The schedule amounting to $710.36 was passed and ordered paid.

The Silk Shirt Habit

Having saved hard during the war, it was to be expected that people should spend freely when the opportunity arrived.

But because we wear silk stockings and shirts; because we buy $10 shoes and press them on the clutch pedals, does it follow that we are headed straight for ruin? We don't think so. We think it means we are still headed straight toward a higher standard of living.

As a man said to me yesterday, "I'm not going to buy Hanan shoes until they drop to $10." I wonder if he's going barefooted this summer or will he come in and buy some of our other makes of oxfords at six, seven or eight? None better at the price. One word more, Brothers—If we don't do business, we'll have to go back to the old farm, grow our food, pitch hay and milk the cow. We are stocked up to stay in town for a while.

Joint Congressional Hearings On Merchant Marine Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Joint congressional hearings on the administration's merchant marine bill were begun today with Republican leaders confident the house would be able to act on the measure before the close of the present session, but generally doubtful as to whether the senate will have time to dispose of it until after congress reconvenes in December.

Sitting in joint sessions, the senate commerce committee and the house merchant marine and fisheries committee will be the first to hear the testimony of shipping board officials with Chairman Lasker as the initial witness.

Prepared by shipping board officials with the approval of President Harding, identical bills proposing government aid for the United States merchant marine are pending before both committees.

Government operation of ships, in the opinion of the shipping board head, is not only a costly plan, but is driving private owners out of the sea without accomplishing anything itself.

The greatest race track drama ever staged

Scenario by Paul H. Sloane
Directed by Richard Stanton

Eastland Theatre, Starting Tomorrow, Matinee and Night for Four Days William Fox Will Offer His Second Big Giant Special, "Thunderclap," the Greatest Race Track Drama Ever Staged—With Special Orchestra and Effects—Four Shows Each Day at 1:30, 3:15, 6:30 and 8:30—Matinees 10 and 20 Cents—Nights 15 and 40 Cents.

Program

A—Century Comedy "Mutts," featuring Brownie, the wonder dog.

B—Special Orchestra features "At the Race Course," a descriptive overture to "Thunderclap," played by the Eastland Orchestra under the direction of Wm. A. Spitzer.

C—Wm. Fox presents "Thunderclap."—De Luxe performances with orchestra and effects at 6:30 and 8:30.

In "Thunderclap," the super-picture which will begin at the Eastland tomorrow, one of the most spectacular races ever screened is shown. There is plenty of excitement in it for even the most jaded of movie appetites, and William Fox and Director Stanton have afforded the public some wonderful thrills.

Perhaps most memorable of all, next to the remarkable race scene, is that of the hero swirling down the rapids. One paper says that it made all other similar scenes ever filmed look very tame. In the taking of this incident, Paul Willis, the hero, almost lost his life. He did not have to call on his histrionic assets to register fear, his fear was genuine; and the colored lad who plays in the picture insists that Willis carried a horse shoe in his pocket while he careened down the torrent to what looked like sure death.

At the end of the story clean sportsmanship triumphs over crooked gambling; and a mother, a girl and a boy win happiness. Mary Carr, in the role of the mother, has again created a part that should go down in film history as a milestone of pantomimic progress. Playing the part of a paralytic, she is deprived of the use of her limbs, her body, and her speech. She has to put over her part solely with facial expression, and how she does succeed!

In order to give the interiors of the gaming house a more realistic effect, one of the most fashionable establishments in New York was rented for the filming of the scenes.

The picture was originally shown at the Central Theatre, New York, and had a brilliant Broadway run.

Kearns To Seek Re-Election

Now that Charles C. Kearns is out with an announcement of his intention to seek the Republican nomination for congress, other Republicans that have a hankering to represent the Sixth district in congress are expected to step out and announce their candidacy in opposition to the Clermont county statesman.

Even should Kearns have no opposition in the primary, he will have the fight of his life in November when he will be called upon, unless present plans miscarry, to do battle with a worthy Democratic foe in Mayor William N. Gabbeman, of this city, who will no doubt be the nominee of his party.

MRS. MARY A. SPENCER, of Watertown, N. Y., aged 75, who declares she gained fifteen pounds on Tanlac and feels just fine all the time. Was in badly run-down condition.

"Just think of it, at seventy-five years of age to be made well and strong again and gain twelve pounds in weight, but this is exactly what I did, after taking Tanlac. Not only that, I feel years younger," said Mrs. Mary A Spencer, East St., lifelong resident of Watertown, N. Y.

"For over a year I was in a terribly run-down condition and I was so nervous and restless that many a night I could hear the clock strike every hour. I was able to eat very little and lost strength right along, finally becoming so weak I could hardly walk from one room to the other.

"On account of my age I thought my declining health was natural, but Tanlac has proved that I was mistaken. I can do all my own housework now, I sleep all night long, wake up in the morning feeling refreshed and just feel fine all the day long. Tanlac can't be praised too much."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by Fisher & Streich Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.-Advertisement.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor of Times: I am an interested reader of The Times, and several days ago noticed Mayor H. H. Mittendorf of South Webster had an article relative to Lawrence county's bad roads near Webster, but he certainly does not have much ground to complain. Sunday I was an autoist who visited South Webster and my machine stuck in the mud on a townhill street in the heart of the village. Now it is Mayor Mittendorf's time to act the part of the Lawrence county commissioners and explain why such bad roads exist not in his own fair village.

A SUNDAY AUTOIST.

N. S.: As I am a citizen of Scioto county, Ohio, and a reader of the Portsmouth Daily Times, I am writing you.

I have read quite a few letters in your columns signed "From Our Readers." Now, sir, I ask your permission for a few words in your honorable paper. Now, sir, first of all, I want to ask each and every citizen of Portsmouth and New Boston, do we, as citizens of said city and village want a clean place to live in?

Now, perhaps, there are several people that will answer "yes."

Now allow me to ask how you show that you want a better place to live in? First of all, are you against the destructible places which we have so many of?

One of which are, namely, certain dance halls.

I was walking on Gallia avenue, New Boston, on the evening of Saturday, April the second. There was a couple on the street, perhaps, man and wife, or at least I heard afterward that they were man and wife. They were quarreling and perhaps would have fought with each other if it had not been on the street. Now, I watched this couple enter the dance hall, and I called the attention of the Ohio Avenue Christian church minister to the quarrel.

Now, I heard afterward that this quarrel started in or near the dance hall. Now, do we, as citizens, uphold these places and such scenes as this street occurrence, before children or whoever may be walking upon the street. Now you may say Christian people do not visit these places or bother with them.

Now, I say, if we are going to have a clean place to live in, we will have to destroy all places of destruction. Biblical reference—II Chron. 14:5.

Thanking you, editor, I remain a Christian citizen and worker of Scioto County, Ohio. Yours truly,

For a Better City and Village

Honor To Henry Watterson Rendered At Funeral Service

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Honor to Henry Watterson, dean of American journalists and veteran editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who died in Jacksonville, Florida, December 22 was rendered at his funeral services here today. The body arrived last night. It was met by a committee of citizens and taken to a mortuary chapel, where it rested, banked high with floral offerings from persons and organizations in many parts of the United States, until time for the funeral ceremony at the First Christian church.

Seats to the right and left of the pulpit had been reserved for the active and honorary pallbearers. The first numbered men who long had been associated professionally with Mr. Watterson. They included Judge Robert W. Bingham, publisher of the Courier-Journal, and the Louisville Times, and Arthur Krock, editor of the Times. Names of widely known persons were on the list of honorary pallbearers. They were, among others, Governor Edwin P. Morrow, Lieutenant Governor S. Thurston Ballard, George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain; Senators A. O. Stanley and Richard P. Ernst; Congressman Joseph G. Cannon; Colonel E. M. House, Charles Deering, Chicago; Robert M. Thompson and Mark Sullivan, Washington; Clark Howell, Atlanta; George Bailey, Houston, Texas; Frank I. Cobb, E. S. Martin, E. P. Mitchell, Adolph S. Ochs, Frank A. Munsey and Herbert Bayard Swope, all New York newspaper men.

A vault in Cavehill cemetery, designed to resist corrosion for a thousand years, has been designed to receive Mr. Watterson's body. At the head of the grave has been erected a simple granite shaft chosen by Mr. Watterson several months before his death. It bore no inscription other than Mr. Watterson's name and that of his widow.

After Daylight Saving

The Chillicothe News-Advertiser says:

"While no organized effort has been made in Chillicothe to secure "daylight saving," the clerks at the B. & O. want to leave the clock alone at Central time, but to get the extra hour of daylight anyway.

To this end they are petitioning that they be allowed to go to work at 7 o'clock in the morning, an hour earlier than at present, and quit at 4 p. m. instead of 5 p. m.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

After eight years of married life MARK SABRE realizes that he is neither understood by his prosaic and snobbish wife, MABEL, nor by his colleagues in the firm of Fortune, East and Sabre. A promised partnership in the business has been denied him and promised to TWYNING, a jealous associate.

Suddenly an old sweetheart, NONA, now the wife of the dashing LORD TYBAR, returns after two years of travel. Mabel becomes jealous of Nona, who visits Sabre at his office. Sabre suspects that Nona is not happy with Tybar. In the conversation in the office Sabre realizes that Nona can give him the sympathy and understanding that he craves.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Clearly, as it were yesterday, he remembered the day she had declared to him her choice. In the Cathedral cloisters. Walking together. And suddenly, in the midst of not-at-all things, she told him, "I say, Marko, I'm going to marry Lord Tybar."

And his reply, the model of indifference. "Are you, Nona?"

He came upon the picture of himself alone with Nona, alone with her, watching her beautiful face and saying to her, "Look here, there were three things you said, three expressions you used. Explain them, Nona. Explain 'There' with your glove off. Explain 'Flotsam.' Explain 'Well, I had to come.' Explain them, Nona ... [illegible]"

CHAPTER V

I

But it was October before he asked her to explain them. The Tybars, as he learnt when he next met her, a week after her visit to the office, were only at Northropps for a brief ... [illegible] ... in Scotland ... [illegible] ... October for the shooting and ... [illegible]

There was the occasion of a little dinner party at Northropps, to which he had come with Mabel. Major Hopscotch Millet and one or two others were among the guests.

Nona came with them to the door on their departure. Sabre was last down the steps. "Well, I shan't see you again till October," she said.

"No, till October." He had no more than touched her hand and turned away.

She was close behind him. He heard her give the tiniest little catch at her breath. She said, "Shall I write to you, Marko?"

He turned towards her. She was smiling as though it was a chaffing remark she had made. Her shield!

And he answered her from behind his own shield. "Oh, well, I'm bad at letters, you know."

But their eyes met with no shields before them; and she was wounded, for he just caught her voice as he went down the steps, "Oh, Marko, do write to me!"

He got into the cab. Major Millet had taken the seat next Mabel.

As the horse turned, Mabel in ... "What was Lady Tybar talking to you about all that time?"

He said, "Oh, just saying goodby."

But he was thinking, "That's a ... question: Why did you say, 'Oh, Marko, do write to me'? Or was it the answer to the other questions, although I never asked them?"

CHAPTER VI

I

A DRAPER occupied the premises ... Fortune, East and Sabre ... on an October after... just before five o'clock, Sabre saw Nona alight from her car ... He put on his hat and coat and descended into the street. As he crossed the road ...

"Hello, Marko."

"What about having some tea somewhere?"

... The suggestion ... She spoke to the chauffeur and accompanied him.

Nona began some account of her summer ... Sabre spoke ... But ... when ... Nona looked at her watch. "Well, I ... We haven't ... had none."

Sabre said, "Yes, let ... as though the thing ... a stitch.

He put her into the car. She was so very, very quiet. He said, "I've half a mind to drive up with you. I'd like a ride, and a walk back."

II

They were within the gates. It had been a dull day. Evening stood mistily far up the long avenue of the drive and in the distances about the park on either hand. Among October's massing leaves, a small disquiet stirred. The leaves banked orderly between their parent trunks. Sabre noticed as a curious thing how, when they stirred, they only trembled in their massed formations, not broke their ranks, as if some live thing ran beneath them.

He said, "Do you know what this seems to me? It seems as though it was only yesterday, or this morning, that you came to see me at the office and we talked. Well, I want it to be only yesterday. I want to go on from there."

She said, "Yes."

He hardly could hear the word. He looked at her. She was as tall as he. Not least of the contributions to her beauty in his eyes was the slim grace of her stature. But her face was averted; and he wanted most terribly to see her face. "Stand a minute and look at me, Nona." He touched her arm. "I want to see your face."

She turned towards him and raised her eyes to his eyes. "Oh, what is it you want to say, Marko?"

There was that which glistered upon her lower lids; and about her mouth were trembling movements; and in her throat a pulse beating.

He said, "It's you I want to say something. I want you to explain some things. Some things you said. Nona, when you came into my room that day and shook hands you said, 'There!' when you gave me your hand. You took off your glove and you said 'There!' And you said 'Well, I had to come.' And you said you were flotsam. And that night—when we'd been up to you—you said 'Oh, Marko, do write to me.' I want you to explain what you meant."

She said, "Oh, how can you remember?"

He answered, "Because I remember, you must explain."

"Please let me sit down, Marko." She faltered a little laugh. "I can explain better sitting down."

A felled trunk had been placed against the trees facing towards the parkland. They went to it and he sat beside her. She sat upright but bending forward a little over her crossed knees, her hands clasped on them, looking before her across the park.

"I OUGHT TO HAVE MARRIED YOU, MARKO."

"No, you must look at me," he said.

She very slowly turned her body towards him. He thought her most beautiful and the expression of her beautiful face was most terrible to him in all his emotions.

II

She spoke very slowly; almost with a perceptible pause between each word. She said, "Well, I'll tell you. I said 'flotsam,' didn't I? If I explain that — you know what flotsam is, Marko. Have you ever looked it up in the dictionary? The dictionary says it terribly. 'Goods shipwrecked and found floating on the sea.' I'm twenty-eight, Marko. I suppose that's not really very old. It seems a terrible age to me. You see, you judge age by what you are in contrast with what you were. If you're very happy I think it can't matter how old you are. If you look back to when you were happy and then come to now when you're not, it seems a most terrible and tremendous gulf and you see yourself just floating drifting farther and farther away from the happy years and just being taken along, taken along, to God knows where, God knows to what."

She put out the palms of her hands towards where misty evening banked somberly across the park. "That's very frightening, Marko."

"Well, all the time there was you, Marko. In those two years when we were away it got awful. In those two years I knew I was flotsam. One day—in India—I went and looked at it in the little dictionary in my writing case, and I knew I was. Do you know what I did? I crossed out flotsam in the dictionary and wrote Nona. There it was, and it was the most exact thing—'Nona: goods shipwrecked and found floating in the sea.' I meant to have torn out the page. I forgot. I left it there and Tony saw it."

Sabre said, "What did he say?" In all she had told him there was something omitted. He knew that his question approached the missing quantity. But she did not answer it.

He had desired her to look at him, but it was he who had turned away. He sat with his head between his hands, his elbows on his knees.

She repeated, with rather a plaintive note, as though in his pose she saw some pain she had caused him, "You see, I had known you all my life, Marko."

He said, still looking upon the ground between his feet, "But you haven't explained anything. You've only told me. You haven't explained why."

She said with astonishing simplicity, "Well, you see, Marko, I made a mistake. I made a most frightful mistake. I chose. I chose wrong. I ought to have married you, Marko."

And his words were a groan. "Nona. Nona."

Second Church Holds Annual Meeting

A large number of members of the Second Presbyterian church were present at the annual congregational meeting held last night. The main work of the evening was the election of officers for the various boards of the church. One new member was chosen for each board. Albert Marting of the Board of Deacons was elected to The Church Session to take the place of W. L. Leedom, who has left the city. Wesley Ridenour was elected to the Board of Deacons to take Mr. Marting's place. Stanley Jones was elected to the Board of Trustees to take the place of Paul Williams, whose term of office expired.

The financial reports showed that more than $35,000 had passed through the church for the past year. More of this amount went for benevolence than for the church locally. The officers of the various organizations read their annual reports, which were accepted. The reports showed the church to be steadily growing and in splendid financial condition.

Officers who are to serve for the coming year are:

Weak, Thin, and Run-Down on Three Big Meals a Day

What to do to help put on good firm flesh, increase weight, strength and energy and obtain a more beautiful form and figure

Since the discovery of an amazing food factor called Vitamines, science now shows why thousands may be thin, weak and undernourished on three big meals a day. No matter how much you eat if your food lacks a sufficient quantity of Vitamines, you become weak, thin, nervous, emaciated, easily fatigued, run-down and "all-in", and may actually develop serious disease. This is especially true of those who eat principally soups, white bread, fish, potatoes, tinned fruits and vegetables, pies and cakes, and other foods which have been deprived of their Vitamines, either by throwing away the husks and skins of the foods which contain the Vitamines, or in which the Vitamines have been destroyed by the high degree of heat used in cooking.

While we now know the almost miracle-like results produced by Vitamines, even the most learned scientists are yet unable to explain their exact nature. We do know, however, that when taken with organic Nuxated Iron, people who have been thin, weak, nervous and run-down, in some cases even for years, often quickly gain surprising strength and energy, put on good, firm flesh, wonderfully round out face and figure and become more alert and vigorous both physically and mentally.

By helping to create millions of new, red blood cells, Nuxated Iron taken after meals unquestionably increases the power of the body to transform lifeless food matter into living cells, flesh, muscle and tissue, and Vitamines taken before meals mixes with your food and acts as a powerful nutritious substance. Without organic iron in your blood, your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good—you do not get any nourishment or strength out of it and therefore both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless. It is for this reason that organic Nuxated Iron should be taken with Vitamines.

Free

To prove to you the surprising results which we feel should be quickly obtained from this valuable combination, arrangements have been made with druggists in this city to give you A LARGE DOLLAR PACKAGE OF GENUINE YEAST VITAMINE TABLETS ABSOLUTELY FREE with your purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron. Weigh yourself before you start taking them, then again after ten days and see how much you have increased in weight, also in strength, energy and endurance. MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."

Mrs. WM. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Del.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

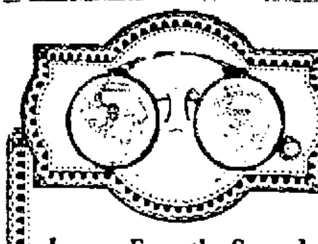

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

The Sabbath Day

The third commandment is: Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day. The Sabbath is the seventh day of the week. It means the day of rest. It was ordered to be observed in the Old Law in remembrance of the work of Creation. The Sunday is the first day of the week and is the day of worship, kept holy in the New Law. The change from the Sabbath to Sunday was made in the days of the Apostles with the approval of Christ. Our Lord made Sunday his day, for He arose from the dead on Sunday and on Sunday sent the Holy Ghost upon the apostles. Tradition, and not the Bible, is the only proof for observing Sunday.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please publish as soon as possible the names of the Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of State of Ohio, as I need them for school work.

THANK YOU.

Clarence R. Brown is the lieutenant governor and Harvey J. Smith is secretary of state.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me anything about the Rockhill sanitarium, near Cincinnati? Is it any better for the treatment of tuberculosis than Mt. Vernon, or Mt. Logan?

T. B. PATIENT.

The treatment is about the same wherever you go—rest, fresh air and proper food is half the battle, if you are in the first stages of T. B. I understand Rockhill is strong on artificial pneumothorax. Where one lung is badly affected and the other is not, they put the bad lung to rest by collapsing it. This is done by the injection of nitrogen gas. Where both lungs are affected, of course they cannot do this. Dr. Rockhill is an authority on this method of treatment, known as artificial pneumothorax. This treatment is also given in some cases at Mt. Vernon. You could take the rest cure at home if you would just make up your mind to do it. Be sure and use a sputum cup and see that you don't use any dishes that the other members of the family use. Also sleep in a well ventilated room or on a sleeping porch by yourself. If you think you have tuberculosis don't give it to any other members of your family.

Dear Dolly—I am a married woman and for the past year I have been getting postcards from some person who only signs their initials. Now, Dolly, I love my husband, and I am sure he loves me and those cards are a disgrace to him as well as to me. They are full of love and nonsense and they make me so ashamed to receive them. What shall I do about it?

WORRIED READER

If you suspect anyone of sending the cards, turn them over to the postal authorities, and they will place a detective on their trail. If the cards don't stop coming the person sending them will be arrested, and given the full extent of the law.

Dear Dolly—Will you please give me the name and address of some hospital in Cincinnati as I want to know about going in training.

ONE WHO WANTS TO KNOW

Hospitals in Cincinnati include The Good Samaritan, The Jewish, Christ's, The Bethesda, The Seton and the General Hospital, the last named being the city hospital. There are three training schools right here in Portsmouth. Did you inquire about them?

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me who our United States Senator is from this district? IGNORANT

There are only two United States Senators in the state of Ohio. They are Atlee Pomerene of Canton, and Frank B. Willis of Delaware.

Dear Dolly—What departments does the soldier compensation blanks pass through before being made payable to the soldiers?

A SOLDIER.

After being checked up in the state headquarters at Columbus, they are sent to Washington where they go through the same system of checking up, verifying names, records, etc.

He could not drag you very far without your consent, and you were old enough to know better. You know better now, and yet refuse to give him up. It looks very much like you enjoy being "dragged down." If you didn't, you could put this man out of your life forever and start over again. It is never too late to turn over a new leaf. IN SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Margaret M. Stabler, beautiful young daughter of Mr. David Stabler of 1119 Fourth street, and Mr. James E. Breece, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Breece of 836 Eighth street, was solemnized in Chillicothe Monday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at three o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Kate Stahler, in the presence of the two families and a few close friends. Rev. Charles Clarke McKinney, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Chillicothe performed the ceremony, using the impressive double ring ceremony.

The announcement of their marriage came as a complete surprise to their many friends as few were aware of their plans to have the interesting event take place in Chillicothe. The wedding party left this city at noon yesterday and the ceremony was performed shortly after their arrival there.

The home of the bride's aunt was attractively arranged and handsomely decorated for the wedding, which was one of simple dignity rather than of ostentation. An improvised altar was cleverly arranged before the mantel in the large living room of the Stahler home, before which the young couple stood. Soft shaded lights and baskets of roses, forsythia and smilax were used in the decorations and also in the dining-room.

The bridal party entered the living room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mr. Andrew McNeallis, organist of the First Presbyterian church of Chillicothe. Miss Stahler and her attendant, Mrs. James D. Williams, entered first, followed by the groom and his brother, Mr. George W. Breece, who served as best man.

Miss Stahler looked charming in an attractive French model of blue canton crepe, with oriental bead trimming, and a smart hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Williams was costumed in a beautiful dark blue taffeta frock of the new spring style and wore a corsage of pink roses. During the ceremony Mr. McNeallis played "I Love You Truly" and other appropriate airs during the brief reception after the ceremony.

Following the marriage service a delicious refreshment course was served in the dining-room, where a color-scheme of gold and white was used. The table was especially beautiful in its decorations of lighted tapers and cut flowers and places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. James E. Breece, Mr. David Stahler, father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Breece, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Breece, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. George Welde, sister of the bride, Mrs. Kate Stahler, aunt of the bride, and her sister, Miss Anna Keim, and Mr. and Mrs. James D. Williams, special friends of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Breece left at five o'clock for a ten days' wedding trip through the East. They expect to visit Buffalo and New York City, returning by Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will make their home with Mr. Breece's parents, until their own home, under course of construction on Hutchins street, is ready for occupancy.

Mrs. Breece's traveling gown was a striking sport model of rust tweed with a small soft hat to match.

The marriage of Miss Stahler and Mr. Breece unites two of the most popular members of the younger social set. Miss Stahler, who is a talented pianist and vocalist, was the star of the play, "Arms and the Man," given at the high school auditorium last week. The engagement was formally announced at a dinner given by Miss Christine Selby on March 29th, and at the time it was stated the marriage would be an event of June. But the young couple decided to surprise their friends and thus the ceremony of yesterday.

The bride is the attractive daughter of David Stahler and attended the Portsmouth high school, later graduating in music from the Laurel College in Cleveland, where she studied under some of the best artists in the lake city.

Mr. Breece is one of the most promising young business men of the city, holding a responsible position with the Breece Manufacturing Company, of which his father, John T. Breece is the president.

Mr. Breece is a graduate of the Portsmouth high school, of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, and also attended the University of Chicago. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and served in the army during the World War.

Sunday's Columbus Dispatch contained an excellent picture of Hayward Anderson, of this city, and five other young Ohio State University students, who are to play the leading male roles in "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," the Harry James Smith comedy which Strollers of the O. S. U. will produce at the university chapel Friday and Saturday nights of this week. Mr. Anderson is president of the club and editor of the Sun Dial. The Strollers will present this play in the High School auditorium on Thursday and Friday nights, April 20th and 21st.

On Saturday morning the Ladies' Circle of the Presbyterian church of Sandy Springs, O., came laden with gifts and well-filled baskets of good things to eat to the hospitable home of Mrs. Lizzetta Hoobrig of Commercial and gave her a happy surprise, the occasion being her eighty-seventh birthday anniversary. The table was soon adorned with a beautiful birthday cake, with candles burning, the centerpiece being a large bouquet of rosebuds and carnations, sent by her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Fox, of Cincinnati. The other decorations were in keeping with Easter. All did full justice to the good eats. The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation, Victrola music and readings. One reading by Mr. June Hoobing, "Omens and Signs," given in his own good style, was much enjoyed. The most interesting diversion was a spelling contest, the prize going to Miss Oneida Harris, for spelling the most words correctly. Those present were Mrs. Kate Ewing, Mrs. Sallie Norris, Mrs. James Denham, Misses Oneida and Stella Harris, Miss Bertha Norris, Sallie Brown, Mary Ewing, Hazel Morgan and little Martha Kathrine Rayburn of Columbus, she being one of the many great grand-children of Mrs. Hoobrig. Mrs. Hoobrig and son, June, Mrs. Bert Adams and Mrs. J. Chadwick of Vanceburg, Ky. All departed for their homes in the late afternoon, wishing Mrs. Hoobrig many more happy birthdays. She is the oldest member of the Commercial community. On Sunday, her son June served 12 and 6 o'clock dinner to a number of her neighbors and friends. Those present to enjoy the occasion and delectable good things of the Easter season were Mrs. Ike Thorp, Mrs. Chas. Brainard, Mrs. Ed Salsbury, Mrs. Mina Furnier, Mrs. Frank Tracy, Mrs. James Furnier, Mrs. Laura Brown, Misses Sallie Brown and Mary Seidell. All voted Mr. June an ideal host and chef.

The new home of Mrs. Effie M. Walker, Fourth street and York Lane, presented a most attractive appearance Monday evening in preparation for the Young People's meeting of Bigelow church.

Large vases and bowls of beautiful pink magnolias were used in profusion in all the brilliantly lighted rooms. Always a most gracious hostess, and never so happy as when receiving the young people of her church into her home, Mrs. Walker greeted her guests in a most cordial manner.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Beatrice Lindsay, the members singing "In the Garden," led by Miss Sara Louise Walker.

The devotionals and Easter lesson from the twenty-eighth chapter of Matthew, was given by Miss Elizabeth Rockwell, followed by prayer by Miss Lindsay.

In the absence of the secretary, the roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Edgar Lewis.

A report of the flowers sent to the sick was given by Miss Dode Jeffers.

A letter on new members, from Mrs. D. F. Stecker of Gary, Indiana, was read by Mrs. Vivien Taylor. The treasurer's report was given by Miss Merle Little.

A most enjoyable feature of the evening was the talk given by Mrs. George M. Appel, the speaker of the evening. In a sweet conversational manner, which won the undivided attention of those present, Mrs. Appel told of her visit to the Orient, telling mostly of Japan, Korea and China, giving this land of young women a most delightful trip into foreign lands.

A vocal solo, "In the Shadow of Clouds," was sung by Miss Sara Louise Walker, receiving hearty applause.

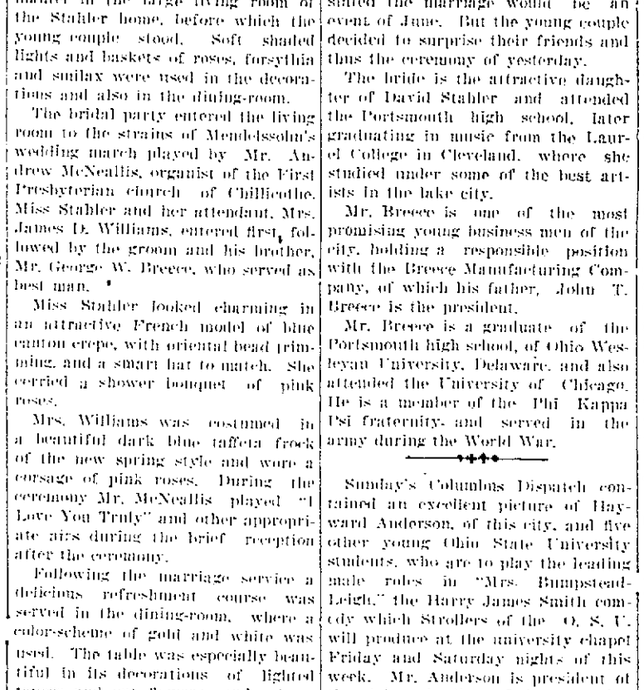

Out of town visitors were: Mrs. Dan Bengal of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Frank Armbruster of Waverly, Ohio.

In the serving of brick icecream, home-made cake and coffee, Mrs. Walker was assisted by Mrs. Sara Little, Mrs. L. E. Butler, Mrs. Ollie Peed, Miss Dode Jeffers and Miss Sara Louise Walker.

Mrs. James G. Shaw, Mrs. Lamar Bailey, Mrs. Adam Pfau and Mrs. George Gims attended a meeting of the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem in Ashland, Ky., last night.

Mrs. Leo Sommer of Fifth street has returned from a week-end visit with her daughter, Miss Marcella Sommer, a student at Ohio State University. Miss Sommer is recovering nicely from an attack of the flu.

The West Portsmouth W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louella Minego, 712 Findlay street. From 2 until 2:30 o'clock the business will be disposed of, after which a special prayer service will be held. All members are urged to be present.

Why tonic value is greater in this yeast

Yeast Foam Tablets are made entirely of pure whole yeast—the richest source of the tissue-building vitamin

The amazing tonic properties of yeast, and its consequent popularity everywhere, have offered opportunities which patent medicine makers and others have been quick to capitalize.

The resulting flood of so-called vitamin preparations reveals many products which contain precious little yeast and insignificant quantities of vitamin.

Remember these facts

It is of utmost importance to you to remember that Yeast Foam Tablets are made entirely of pure whole yeast—that their vitamin content is proved by actual test to be both high and uniform—that they are endorsed by leading medical scientists—and that they are made by yeast experts, the world's largest manufacturers of dry yeast.

By virtue of these facts you are definitely assured that Yeast Foam Tablets have an exceedingly high tonic value—and that is what you really want.

You may take them with the positive knowledge that they will aid assimilation, promote growth and the formation of firm, healthy tissue, and that through these processes you will experience an energizing and generally upbuilding effect.

Take Yeast Foam Tablets for these conditions

Yeast Foam Tablets, which are so rich in the tonic and tissue-forming vitamin, are recommended for loss of appetite; indigestion; lack of physical strength and energy; anaemia; skin disorders; nervous troubles and many forms of vitamin deficiency and general ill health known as "run down" conditions.

The name, Yeast Foam Tablets, is your protection. It is your guarantee of purity and known vitamin potency. Ask for this yeast by its full name. There is nothing just the same or "just as good." Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

We'd better not stop," said Nick

THIS time the Twins got over the Chocolate Mountain safely.

No more slipping. No more sliding back.

Jack Frost and North Wind, with their cold breaths, kept the mountain as hard as an Eskimo pie, and Twelve Toes was furious. He put his watch crystal back in its case with a great snap and ground his awful teeth. "I thought I had them that time, sure," he raged.

He went into his cave and got out his spyglass and took a good look. When he discovered that the Twins were not only safe but that the raveling had disappeared from the record, he was completely beside himself.

Only two more mountains and the Seven Valleys left," he shrieked. "I'll have to see to it that each one is harder to cross than the last."

Well, Nancy and Nick started up the Five-and-ten-cent store Mountain with light hearts. It did seem as though most of their troubles were over at last. They had no idea of the awful things Twelve Toes was planning.

Nancy looked around in pleased surprise. "Oh, Nick, this is a lovely place," she cried. "Just see! There are stores everywhere, and all of them have signs which say 'Nothing over Ten Cents.'"

"We'd better not stop," declared Nick, but his eyes had spied something in a window and his voice did not sound as though he meant it. "There are some dandy Bearbooks," he said. "Let's take a peep."

He shifted the record to the other arm and slipped his hand into his trousers pocket. Suddenly his fingers touched something. "Why," he said, "I didn't know I had any money. Here's a dime!" He held it up proudly.

"And I've a dime, too," cried Nancy, reaching into her own little apron pocket.

Twelve Toes had put them there.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Franklin Avenue M. E.

This is Sunday school week in the revival services at Franklin Avenue church, each night to be featured by the attendance of a certain Sunday school class or department in a body. The King's Daughters were the honor class Monday night, and their fine attendance indicated the interest shown by the Sunday school and the entire church in these special services. The Mizpah class will attend in a body tonight and occupy the front middle section of the church reserved for them.

The Junior choir was a new feature of the Monday night service, the choir loft being completely filled with the Junior girls and boys. Their singing was helpful and together with their splendid attendance, brought forth favorable comment from Mrs. Anra Smith, sister of the pastor, who has charge of the singing at all the meetings. Mrs. Smith's solo, "He Died for Me," was rendered in her usual gospel way.

The pastor, Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, selected as his text for the evening, the words of our Master as found in John 21:15-17, "Simon, Son of Jonas, lovest thou Me?" His message was delivered in his usual spiritual way.

Meetings will be held each night this week, at 7:15, except Saturday. Gospel sermons by the pastor. Also afternoon meetings at 2 o'clock on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, led by Mrs. Smith.

At Church of Christ

There was a very good audience at at the church of Christ last night. The songs were led by Brother Leonard and every one in the house joined in with him, and sang as with spirit and understanding. The minister, B. F. Stivers, preached a plain sermon on the Church of Christ and its privileges.

Tonight it will be shown that the foundation structure, laws, ordinances, food, must all be divine, for an object with a divine nature to live in. The public is invited to come and let us reason together on these important subjects.

Trinity M. E. Church

Visitors at Trinity church do not have to be told that a revival is on. That fact is made manifest in the response that is being made to the call of the church. Although Monday usually means the weekly celebration of labor day by the home keeper, this seemed to have little or no influence on the large and enthusiastic congregation assembled last evening in the main auditorium. Groups No. 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the Ladies Aid were especially responsible for the attendance and it is expected that Tuesday night's numbers will surpass those of Monday. Groups No. 5, 6, 7, and 8, which included the business girls of the church will have charge, and a fine showing of the business girls of the city is looked for. Especial music will be the feature.

Speaking from Zechariah 2:4, the preacher sent out the message to those laying the lines of their lives to lay with care and caution as these lives are to be lived, if they attain to that fullness which God has placed for them, as a City without walls.

At First Christian

Last, the cold of a "blue Monday," hardly bore out the traditions at First Christian as everybody seemed to be very far from "blue" and the large audience that filled the auditorium were all attention to every word that fell from the lips of Rev. Culberson as he poured forth one of his learned discourses on another phase of his chosen theme for the week, "Conversion."

The start off too was a happy one from the fact that Rev. Crabtree in charge of the music had about 80 juniors on the platform, an immense chorus of children and they sure did sing. They were highly complimented by the preacher and applauded by the audience. The juniors have consented to sing again on next Monday evening.

The services tonight will begin at 7:15 sharp. The song service is so inspiring that the time of beginning was moved up a quarter of an hour so that all might not miss it, and the folks will be able to get there at that time.

A short meeting of the Evangelistic Committee has been called for just after the service this evening, and it is especially desired that every business girls of the city is looked organization be represented.

Sheets Alleges Spite Work

Rolla Sheets of Mabert Road was required to appear in Municipal court Tuesday to answer to two separate complaints for working. The complaints which were filed by Plumbing Inspector William West alleged that Sheets engaged in plumbing work without first obtaining a license.

The first offense was committed on Jan. 26 last, and evidence was adduced by the prosecution showing that Sheets was seen cutting threads on iron pipes which were to be installed in a new house on Walnut street and the other charge grew out of the defendant assisting E. S. Wilson, a licensed plumber, to install water [illegible] house on Ninth street on March 29 last.

The defense claimed that Sheets was employed as a helper by Wilson and contended that it was a part of the helper's work to assist in the very work which was being complained of.

The defense declined to offer any evidence and Judge McCall made a finding of guilty in the first case and assessed a fine of $25 and costs but dismissed the other complaint for lack of convincing proof.

Attorneys A. Z. Blair and W. R. Sprague, who defended Sheets, promptly gave notice of their intention of carrying the case to the Common Pleas court on error.

After the trial was concluded Sheets claimed that the charges made against him were due to "spite work" because he was not a member of the union. He declared that he had more than 35 years experience in plumbing work but that he had been refused a license on several occasions by the local license board.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's own relief from constipation!

You must not take chances with constipation when statistics tell you that nine-tenths of all sickness can be traced to it! You must get permanent relief; you must drive constipation out of your system!

Realize that pills and cathartics, at best, can only afford temporary relief, while they are irritating to the delicate intestinal tract.

Now—compare the action of these pills and cathartics with the natural and wholesome effect of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Science knows of no such wonderful sweeper, cleanser and purifier of the bowels as Kellogg's Bran, yet it is simply nature's food. Bran's effect is certain and relief permanent if at least two tablespoonfuls are eaten daily. Chronic cases should eat as much more as is necessary for results. Taken consistently, Kellogg's Bran will drive constipation from the system. Your physician will indorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation!

Eat Kellogg's Bran either as a delicious and nutritious cereal, or sprinkle it over your favorite cereal. Eat it in many other foods which are made more appetizing by its nut-like flavor! Kellogg's Bran pancakes are the best you ever tasted! Use it in raisin bread or muffins, gravies, macaroons, pancakes, etc. (Recipes on package.)

The big thing is to get Kellogg's Bran into your system quickly! Get it at your grocer's.

P. S.—Pimples are caused by constipation. Kellogg's Bran will clear them up and also free your breath from intestinal odors.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason on Fifteenth street was the scene of a delightful gathering last evening when they entertained a circle of friends in their usual charming manner. Orville Moritz, Earl Mason, Percy Schleip, Floyd Stroud, George Cartwright, Dan Stroud, Mr. Eldon, Mrs. Adam Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. Russell May, Mr. and Mrs. Gordley Caudill. Repeal Jitney Bus Ordinance; Bond Issue For Sewers; New Boston Council Busy

Repealing of a jitney bus ordinance, the passing of legislation authorizing a bond issue of $10,000 for new sewers and issuance of bonds to pay for Gallia street paving in Peebles addition and cutting back of Peebles hill and the awarding of a garbage contract constituted the work before New Boston council last night. Bids for remodeling the engine house were also received and the contract awarded.

Council was also treated to speeches by Jacob Maple and Dave Bishop, the two citizens who submitted bids for the garbage contract. Mr. Maple is now hauling the garbage and when council gave the bidders a chance to speak in their behalf Mr. Bishop paid his compliments to Mr. Maple by declaring that paper and other things could be found in the alleys now and such was not the case when he had the job. Mr. Maple in his remarks returned the compliment and claimed that the work was being carried out, according to contract, and that was more than others had done when they were on the job. Council listened patiently to the remarks of each and then award ed the contract to Mr. Maple on his bid of $11.50 per month. Mr. Bishop submitted a lower bid but council decided Maple offered better service and awarded him the contract.

Action on repealing the ordinance was unanimous. The committee provided for the payment of $10 by owners of busses carrying four passengers, $25 for from four to ten, $50 from ten to twenty and $100 for 20 or more in addition to the furnishing of a $10,000 indemnity bond.

The village's share in the cost of paving Gallia street through Peebles addition from West avenue to the west corporation line was $2500. The cost of cutting back Peebles hill to prevent dirt washing down on the paved street amounted to $2500, this being the expense the village had to bear. Ordinances were passed authorizing bond issue for these amounts.

Another ordinance was passed authorizing the issuance of bonds amounting to $10,000 to pay for the construction of an 18 inch sanitary sewer in Millbrook addition which is east of Lakeview avenue and south of Gallia street.

Three contractors submitted bids on remodeling the engine house so that a council chamber and mayor's office and two story jail will be provided in the big room back of the room occupied by the fire truck and firemen's quarters. Jones and Lallow, Sciotoville; Harris, Davis & Duffel of New Boston, and William Fremont were the bidders. Fremont on his bid of $2723.40 was awarded the contract.

Mayor Newberry's report, of fines and fees collected for March showed $226.20 turned into the village treasury and the report was accepted.

SHE WAS DISCOURAGED

Life Was a Misery But Nerv-Worth Restored

"I was in a horrible condition," said Mrs. Willie Watson, Springfield, O. "I was so weak and nervous I couldn't get up stairs without bracing myself by putting one hand on my hip and the other on my leg, then with considerable effort would manage to make the top. I got very little sleep at best owing to my heart fluttering and got up just as tired as I went to bed. I suffered terribly with indigestion and was greatly discouraged. Then I was told about the wonderful Nerv-Worth and as soon as I commenced taking it I felt better and now am able to do all my housework. I have a splendid appetite and eat anything I want. I sleep well and my stomach trouble and nervousness is all gone. My heart no longer bothers me and I can now make regular trips to town which I had not done in a long time." Hundreds of women tell just such stories of the wonders of Nerv-Worth in restoring them to health and strength. You can get it at any drug store at one dollar a bottle. It is always on sale at the Nolor & Streich drug store in this city and you get your money back if the first bottle does not show encouraging results.—Advertisement.

Brick Firm Closes Deal For Ground

An important deal was closed Monday when The Portsmouth Refractories company purchased the site their plant occupies on Gallia street, Damarin Hill and also the hillside opposite the big plant. The site had been used through a five year lease which expired Saturday. The land was then purchased from the owner George H. Heinisch who at one time managed the brick yard and plant that later grew to be the large plant now owned by The Portsmouth Refractories Company. The plant site faces 600 feet on Gallia street about 650 feet along the N. and W. right of way on the south and is about 200 feet deep. The purchase also includes a 600 foot frontage strip on the north side of the bigger part of Damarin hill which contains clay for the making of paving brick. The company does not use this kind of clay at present as firebrick and ground fireclay are manufactured at the local plant. The hillside purchase runs back over the top of the hill.

The plant has been running full time with 100 per cent employment and with many orders ahead plans are being made to expand, the order assuring the company a steady run for months. The company now secures all its raw materials from the vicinity of Firebrick, Lawrence county where the company has a brick plant. They have 720 acres in the raw material field. The yearly output of the two plants is between fifteen and eighteen million brick.

The officers of the company are W. L. Hitchcock, president, Raymond York, vice president and W. B. Hitchcock general manager. The company is hopeful of starting the work of remodeling and enlarging the plant in the very near future. During the past five years the company has increased its capacity four times.

Helps digestion

—and cleans a coated tongue

Thousands of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive process. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milks. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer today.

Team Has Lost Only One Game

Troop 3 of the First Presbyterian church has all but won the championship of the Junior League. By winning from Troop 15 last night they have gone through the season with only one game lost, that to Sciotoville.

Their second game with Troop 11 of Sciotoville, on which the pennant hinges, is a curious case. The score was tie when the time keeper blew for time. The referee did not hear him blow and the game went on for a full minute before the referee knew time was up, and blew his whistle ending the game. During that minute Troop 3 threw a basket apparently winning the game.

The whole question is, "When does a game end? When the time keeper blows for time, or when the referee blows his whistle?" The question has been referred to the Boy Scout Athletic Committee, consisting of Joe Brennan, chairman, Al Bridwell and Wm. Doyle, and their decision is final. If they decide the game is over when the referee blows his whistle Troop 3 has won the pennant, and if they decide that the game ends when the time keeper calls time, the game is a tie and will be ordered to be played over again.

LOCAL LODGES PRAISED BY INSPECTOR

Members of Germania and Louisa lodges, Degree of Harn Gari, made a fine showing when an inspection was made at a joint meeting of the organizations last night. The inspecting officer was Gross Barden Wm. J. Maier of Cleveland. Mr. Maier in a short address told of the inspection trip he is making all over the state and the splendid condition in which most of the lodges are found. He also paid the local organizations a high compliment as they passed the inspection with colors flying.

A lunch was served at the close of the business meeting and a social hour closed the evening.

She needs someone who fulfills her personality, who brings her appreciation. With Tellegen, who couldn't turn his personality inside out to complement hers, she got only rivalry.

Mme. Matzenauer illustrates the earnest, even desperate, effort of a woman with a big mating instinct leaping to extremes in her effort to find happiness. Her mind's picture is of a man of heroic personality, romantic, poetic. Her first experiment was with a person in her own group; failing, she desperately jumped out of her group to try the impossible with a chauffeur. She failed before she started such an experiment.

Galli Curci is one of the few who might easily adjust herself to the right man, through compromise. Her first husband, an artist and painter, might have been to her what Tellegen was to Farrar. I do not know, but it seems likely. Now she is married to her accompanist, a successful adjustment.

Lina Cavalieri and the millionaire Robert Chanler were two temperaments at loggerheads. With them there was no sound basis of mating, but an inevitable split. Now, married to Muratore there is a working compromise evident between two persons of artistic expression.

Council Tells Oles To Fire All The Men He Wants To

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Statements by city councilmen last night that if they reduce city employes' wages Mayor George L. Oles should reduce the number of employes brought forth the following statement today from Oles:

"Oles is very happy. Council told him to fire all the men he wants to. I'll figure it out today and make the list public tomorrow."

Oles told council last night that he would "fire" all the city employes because the city will not have the money for their salaries for at least six months this year, and would call on the militia to protect the city. It is expected, however, that the "firing" will take the form of temporary suspensions for lack of funds, and that it will include only a part of the city pay roll.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—advertisement.

"First Break In Ranks Of Operators" Reported In Anthracite Districts

NEW YORK, April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Strike leaders announced here today that the anthracite miners general policies committee would meet in New York tomorrow to act on the reported offer of several independent producers to grant the strikers 19 wage demands immediately if they would return to their jobs.

Acceptance of these offers, hailed by the union men as "the first break in the ranks of the operators," may result in the negotiation of separate contracts and the re-opening of the mines affected, according to district presidents of the United Mine Workers' international.

Some of the 40 delegates of the three district unions composing the policies committee arrived here today. C. J. Golden, president of District No. 9 at Shamokin, said that at least one anthracite mine in the United States is operating regardless of the strike.

It is the mine of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company at Locust Gap, Pa., where for three months 30 men have been digging frantically in search of a miner, Stanley Zuliski, who disappeared under an avalanche of hard coal early last January.

Knowledge of this violation of the suspension order became general when Mr. Golden, before the wage negotiations committee, asked the joint consent of miners and operators to continue the rescue work while the strike is in progress.

Union leaders here today elaborated on the United Mine Workers' program for nationalization of the coal industry, as it was broached before the house labor committee yesterday by John L. Lewis, president of the international union.

"The first step, according to Mr. Golden, who is a member of the union's committee, which is drafting the nationalization legislative program, will be the introduction in congress of a bill providing for appointment of a government "fact-finding" committee. This body, he said would be charged with making a thorough investigation of mine development, alleged waste, profits, working conditions, wages and markets.

"One of the planks in the platform of the unions, when the time arrives for legislation toward nationalization, will be for regulatory control of all mines. This would mean that the government would forbid the development of new fields until the present fields are worked out. It would halt the existing condition of overdevelopment, bring production to balance demand and eliminate the excess labor now engaged in the coal industry."

Increased Operations In Steel Mills Around Pittsburg

PITTSBURGH, PA., April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Increased operations in the steel mills in and around Pittsburgh were reported today by the United States Steel Corporation and independent companies.

Mills of the corporation, it was stated, were operating about 85 per cent of capacity, the greatest in many months, while some departments were on full time with full forces. Important improvements also were being made, many of them having recalled large forces of men who have been idle for months. Fuel supplies, it was stated, are ample.

Hunt Sent To Jail; Fined; Can Not Drive Machine For Year

Thirty days in jail, fine of $25 and costs and right to drive suspended for one year was the punishment meted out to Garland Hunt, 19, of 1557 Gallia street, by Judge McCall in Municipal court Monday afternoon for driving his automobile while intoxicated.

The charge against Hunt followed on the heels of a collision on Gallia street, near Waller, a week ago when he ran his car into a machine driven by Paul Williams. The right of young Hunt to drive was suspended at the time by reason of a former offense and this disregard for the court's order paved the way for the passing out of the stiff sentence when he came back a second time.

Yes, Police Busy

Are the police busy? If the following figures tell anything, they are. Three months of 1922 are past, and during those ninety days the officers brought into police headquarters 376 prisoners, just ten more than were arrested during the same period of 1921.

During the entire twelve months of 1920 the number of arrests was 1053, but in 1921 there was a big increase and the total was 1315. 1922 will have last year beat if the same ratio prevails throughout the year as prevailed during the first three months. Should each quarter see 376 arrests the book will show a total of 1484 next December 31.

March Wet Month

Rain fell in Portsmouth at intervals during 21 of the 31 days of the month of March. The Ohio river reached its highest stage on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, when the gauge registered 51 feet at two o'clock in the afternoon. The river was at its lowest on March 27 when the registration was 17.2 feet. The average stage of the river during the month was 31.9 feet while the total rainfall was 6.54 inches.

These facts were contained in the monthly report sent to Washington yesterday by United States Observer E. B. Winter.

Drive Against Pests Success

Scioto Valley Grange, No. 1723, held an open meeting Saturday evening, April 1st at Grange hall in Lucasville.

This being the end of the Rat Drive in Valley township, the meeting was called to determine the winning side.

This drive has been carried on for several months and has been worth several hundred dollars to the farmers of Valley township.

It has been estimated that one rat in a year will eat and destroy to the amount of five dollars.

Wherever man has taken up his abode there also, as a general rule, will be found the rat. When the extraordinary powers of reproduction of the species are considered there is little reason to doubt that the rat will be here for some time to come.

Legislation has asked the different agricultural organizations to combat this pest and the granges are making every effort possible to carry out their plans by hunting, ferreting and trapping.

Scioto Valley Grange was divided into two sections, namely Rat Terriers and Tom Cats, hawks, crows and sparrows were also included in the drive. Rats counting 5 points, crows 25, hawks 50 and sparrows 2.

The following shows the points for the different sides:

Tom Cats Rats	3,630
Sparrows	480
Crows	950
Hawks	100
Total	5,156
Rat Terriers-Rats	4,415
Sparrows	1,020
Crows	1,100
Hawks	400
Total	6,935

The report shows 1,612 rats, 753 sparrows, 82 crows and 10 hawks killed.

The Rat Terriers winning by a majority of 1,779 points.

The Tom Cats will banquet the Rat Terriers at the Grange hall Saturday, April 8th.

The rest of the evening was devoted to a mock trial in which Clifford Purdy and Marsh Spriggs were arrested by Constable J. D. Bonzo and tried for fighting and disorderly conduct in the streets of Lucasville. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and Judge McCarty gave them a sentence of sitting at the foot of the banquet table next Saturday night with a muzzle on.

Is Uric Acid Making You Ill?

Have you wondered what is causing you to feel so weak and tired—so "blue" and nervous? It may be uric acid. You have probably eaten too much meat which has filled your blood with uric acid, weakening your kidneys and caused that wearing backache, the headaches, dizziness and other bad feelings. Don't wait for serious trouble. Lighten your diet and use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

A PORTSMOUTH CASE

Mrs. Harry Welch, 721 Washington St, says: "I was almost helpless with my back. When I bent, it was almost impossible to straighten as sharp twinges seized me. I had to be waited upon. I became so dizzy I fell to the floor. My kidneys were inactive, but Doan's Kidney Pills bought at Fisher & Streich's Drug Store relieved me."

WAR HERO AT ALL SAINTS' WEDNESDAY

Not all the heroes of the great war were found on the field of battle.

There were those who earned the title at home. Among these the Rev. Arthur H. Marshall, Chief of the Chaplains at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., will ever hold an honored place. During the influenza epidemic, when men were dying by scores daily, Captain Marshall stuck to his post, and when others fled from duty through fear of the pestilence, he worked day and night at the bedside of the sick and dying, comforting them and administering the Holy Viaticum to hundreds. Mr. Marshall is now Mission Priest in the Hocking Valley with headquarters at Athens, where he is chaplain to the State Hospital. He is an Irishman by birth from "county Cork," and during the height of the Sinn Fein trouble he spent some months in his home town. All who can do so should take the opportunity of hearing him preach at All Saints' church tomorrow night.

The services will commence as usual at 7:30 p. m. The church is two squares west of Chillicothe street at the corner of Fourth and Court streets. On Friday night this week the last of the Lenten visitors will occupy the pulpit of All Saints' church in the person of the Rev. E. F. Chauncey, D. D., the distinguished Rector of Trinity church, Columbus. Those who know Dr. Chauncey will allow nothing to keep them from hearing his message. Others should eagerly avail themselves of the opportunity of making his acquaintance. No greater preacher ever stands in a Portsmouth pulpit.

DIZZY MOTORIST SAVED BY CAPSULE

Dangerous Stomach Gas Relieved by Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules

Many motorists know what a harrowing experience it is to have a sudden attack of dizziness, brought on by indigestion. Everything goes black, control of the car is lost and unless driving is stopped until relief can be had a dangerous accident may follow. F. H. Foster, of Dorchester, Mass., tells how a motoring friend overcame this trouble. He writes: "The Little Wonder Capsules received and they have been doing wonders not only in my family but with a couple of friends one of them, who had to stop his auto on account of dizziness from gas on the stomach, has found that one capsule a day gives the needed relief. Personally they give me relief from starchy indigestion, and I have never found anything work as well."

If you suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion or constipation get this quick relief today.

On sale by the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Portsmouth, O., or sixty cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jaques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Twenty-four Years Ago

William Argo, an aged resident of Porter township, died at his home at the mouth of Pine Creek. He was sixty-five years of age.

Mrs. Mary A. Lorsh received a message advising her of the death in a Pittsburg hospital of her son-in-law, George De Carlo, a well known showman, who appeared in this city a number of times.

Frank Hulick and Art Maude purchased new Union bicycles which they sported in taking spins about town.

The regular teachers' institute of this city was held at Wheelersburg and Principal Frank Appel and his assistants gave the teachers a royal welcome. Those present from Portsmouth were W. P. Chaney, G. W. Moorhart, J. S. Thomas and Mrs. McColm.

Washington specials of Cincinnati specials told of Hon. A. C. Thompson, of this city, as one of the trusted advisors of President McKinley in the war crisis.

"Senator" John Evans entered as a candidate for the appointment as janitor at the post office under Postmaster Philo Clark.

Charles P. Reiniger, of Columbus, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reiniger.

Mrs. Fannie Chapman, after an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Hangs in this city, left for her home in McConnellsville.

Conducting Revival

Rev. O. P. Smith of the South Portsmouth M. E. Church South is in Frost, Kentucky, this week conducting a series of meetings at the Mt. Zion church there.

Not Serious

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 4--Trading at the opening of today's stock market gave promise of another very active and strong session. New high records for the year were made by prominent steels, motors and equipments. Studebaker, yesterday's outstanding feature, made an initial gain of one half point and Pierce-Arrow common and preferred were better by half to one point. Vanadium led the independent steels, rising 2 points. Mexican and California issues continued to feature the oil division, with Houston and Royal Dutch. American Sugar, Beet Sugar, American Ice, American Tobacco and American Writing Paper preferred embraced the other strong shares. Rails as a group were dull at nominal changes.

Dealings during the morning were in excess of 600,000 shares, the largest total for the first two hours in several years. Selling for profit caused reactions of 1 to 2 points in Studebaker, Vanadium, Gulf States Steel, Famous Players, American Car and Canadian Pacific. United States Steel reacted almost a point from its new high of 98⅞. Shippings were strong and buying of oils assumed broader proportions. Davison Chemical led the specialties, rising 3¼ points. Rails were the only important group in which speculative interest seemed lacking. Call money opened at 4½ per cent. Liberty first 4¼'s made a rapid rise of 102 points touching 100.00.

Trading in stocks today were in the largest volume for more than a year, but profit taking and heaviness among speculative issues caused much confusion. Sales approximated 1,250,000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

THE WAY I WASH MY CLOTHES

I am old-fashioned enough to believe that while better household machinery and materials have been invented than our grandmothers had, nothing equals their way of doing things.

That is why I always soak my clothes. After sorting them I soak them in Rinso, using enough to make a good suds that will stand up even after the clothes are put in. I let them soak for an hour—or longer if I am busy about other things—for I have discovered that Rinso won't injure them in the least, yet it soaks out more dirt than any other soap.

Then I rinse them. The first rinse water is terribly dirty but every bit of dirt that is soaked out means that much less rubbing. I only rub neckbands, and the like. Every three or four weeks I boil my white things—except flannels, of course—using enough Rinso to get a mild suds.

WANTED--EQUIPMENT FOR BASEBALL TEAMS; HUNTER'S PARAPHERNALIA IS LOST IN TRANSIT

Fourteen Players Here; May Have To Work Out In Best Duds And Pretty New Silk Shirts

Manager Fred Hunter of the Lansing, Mich., team which will do its spring training in Millbrook is undoubtedly one of the busiest men in Portsmouth. He is also one of the most worried as uniforms and paraphernalia for his team have not arrived and his players are greatly handicapped by their non-arrival. A tracer has been placed on the job and the equipment may be located at any time.

Up to the noon hour today 14 players had reported to Hunter and another squad is expected to arrive tonight and another one Wednesday.

The players are amazed at the difference in the climate here from what they left in Michigan. "Why this seems likht Florida to us," one of the Michiganders said last night. "We sure ought to get in shape if this weather continues.

Hecky Devoss, hard hitting fly chaser in the Industrial League last year will go out with Manager Fred's other rookies and see if he can rap the sphere in faster company. In addition to DeVoss, two other locals, Lewis and Shover, both flingers, will show their stuff.

The team is quartered at the Washington Hotel, and the team will make its headquarters there during its stay in Portsmouth.

The players, who had registered at the Washington up to noon today were as follows: D. H. Roberts, J. Gilligan, A. Bradley, J. A. Dixon, Fred Thornton, L. Reno, E. Grimm, F. W. Hartley, J. Karl, E. and R. Einman, L. R. Bell, D. C. Conklin and J. Mahoney.

Final Game

Wednesday: U. B. Friendly Fellows vs. Bankers at high school gym, umpire Joe Brennan.

Making the gamest fight against heavy odds, any team in Portsmouth ever made, the Bankers won their way to tie with the U. B. Friendly Fellows, by taking three straight from a mighty strong aggregation of the Trinity team players. They took the floor with only five men, and the loss of a single game meant their pennant hopes were all off, and that the U. B. had won the race. But they captured the first game, 21-14, their sixth man coming on the floor during the game. The second game, which they must win, went heavily against them, the Trinity Cubs running the score to 11-1 in the Cubs' favor. But the game Bankers inched up, till the score was 20-15 in favor of the Cubs. Still they fought on, never losing their courage, though losing the serve and getting it back time after time, till they had crept to 20-18, and the nerves of the spectators were jumping, when Erfurth served out.

Both teams looked all in, and the younger Bankers jumped into the lead. But the Cubs made a game fight. With the score 20 to 12 in the Bankers' favor, they made the Bankers serve nine times before they could get the final point.

All the players on both teams played five games. McNamara was the brilliant light of the Bankers team, doing the heavy work in all departments. Brunny played the game of his life, making several of those finger-nail scoop-ups he is famous for. Wylie Young killed the ball hard and slanting. Erfurth and Hopkins starred at serving. Frazier was fine at net. Dr. Wikoff was the star for the Cubs, rescuing the ball when it seemed out of reach, and playing the finest one-handed game yet seen in the league. Phillips started at swift killing. P. E. Selby just sailed them over the net, and Edgar Ross starred at field work.

The crowd were all violent rooters for the Cubs and Marion Prosch, seeing that no one was rooting for the Bankers, went up to Gilfillan and suggested that they split things, he rooting for the Cubs and Gilfillan for the Bankers. Gilfillan accepted, with the result—

Bankers	21	21	21
Trinity Cubs	14	20	18

Bankers: Robt. McNamara, C. W. Hopkins, James Frazier, Ray Erfurth, Wylie Young, J. Brunny.

Trinity Cubs: Dr. Rapp captain, Chas. Donaldson, Dr. Wikoff, Edgar Ross, P. E. Selby, Arthur Horr, Don Phillips.

This leaves the race a tie, and the deciding game will be played off on Wednesday between the Bankers and the U. B. at the high school gym with Joe Brennan as umpire.

Order Uniforms

IRONTON, April 4.—The Nailers have ordered their new uniforms from the Brumberg Clothing Company. The new suits will make a very neat and nice appearance being white with a green stripe and the name "Ironton" across the front.

The new suits will probably arrive some time during this week and be used in the game next Saturday with Toledo.

Handicap Match

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 4.—Charles Rentrop, claimant of the middleweight wrestling championship, won a handicap match from Stanislaus Zbyszko, former heavyweight champion, last night. The Pole agreed to win two falls within 75 minutes. Zbyszko won one fall in 53 minutes. They will wrestle two weeks hence in a finish match, two falls out of three.

Bowlers Doff Hats To Prowess Of F. W. Sheridan

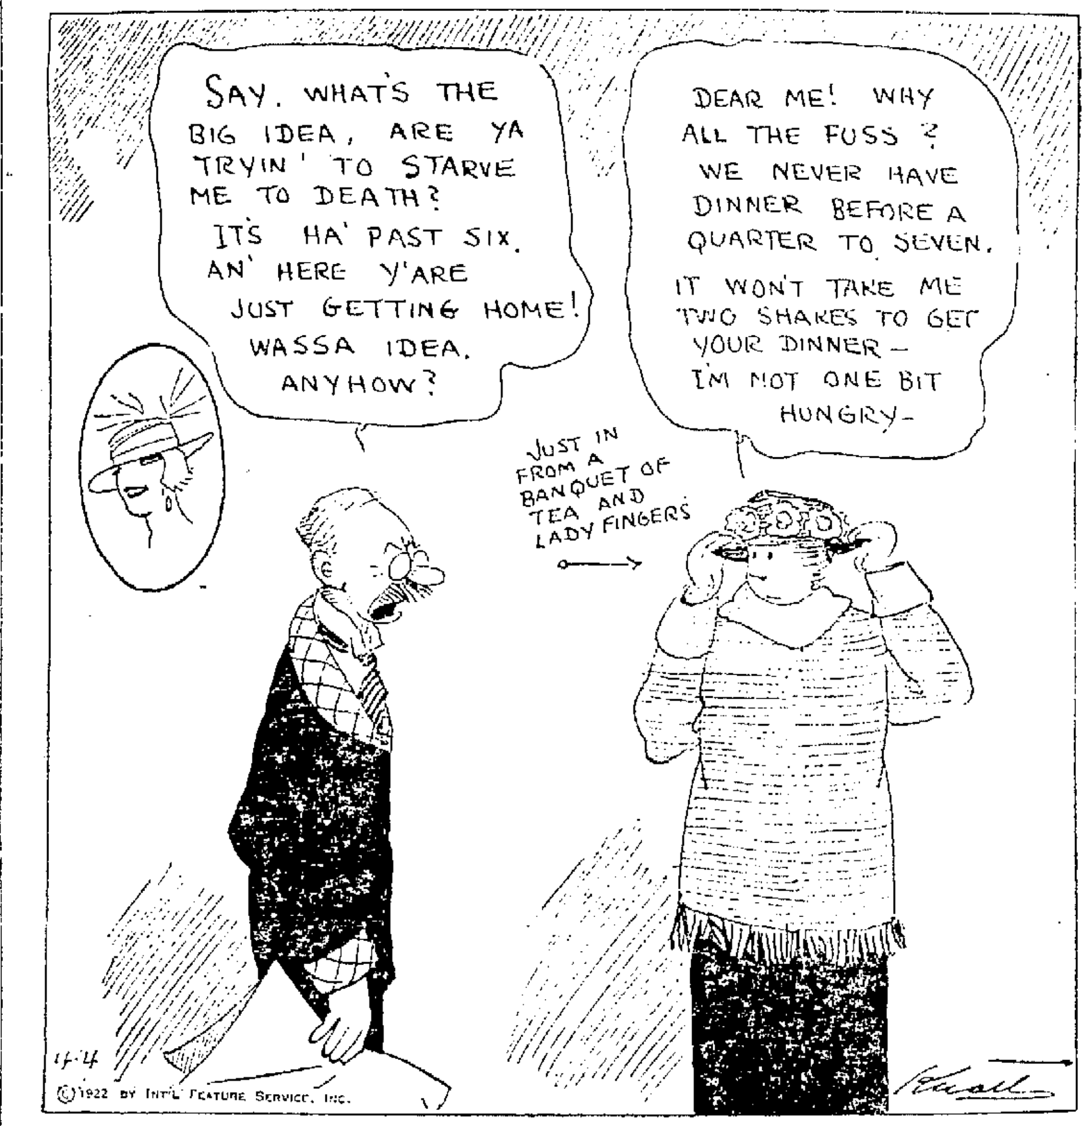

Leads Masonic Bowling League

To F. W. Sheridan goes the honor of being the champion of the Masonic Bowling League for 1921-22, as the following averages will show. While two men, Earl Reinhard and C. W. (Bud) Walter, finished with higher averages they participated in but a few games—not enough to entitle them to any honors. It was a pretty race between last year's champion, C. E. ("Tink") Nodler and Sheridan. The former had the edge at the close of the first half, but during the last half Sheridan overcame the handicap and finished in front by a safe margin. Nodler, however, had an average of 168 and carried off the honors of second place. George Patton was third with 165. "Pat" got a rather poor start, but was coming strong at the finish and declares he would have copped the championship had the season three more weeks to run. Paul Bauer was fourth with 165, followed by Ed Leach with 163—too low for a bowler of Captain Leach's ability.

While Nodler lost out as champion, nevertheless he copped one honor, that of making the highest single game. He bowled 'em over for a 236 score one evening when he was not feeling well. This game will long be remembered by those who witnessed it, for he finished with seven strikes in a row and every hit a perfect one. Ralph Donaldson toppled the wood for the highest three game total, 576, which shows the unexpected can happen even in a bowling game—no reflection on Ralph's ability intended. The Spartans, winners of the first half, made the highest single game total, 904, collecting that amount against the Mutuals last Friday evening—and then flivvering. The Lafayettes, led by Captain William E. Hazelbeck, made the highest three game total, 2498—and such a feat should place the Lafayettes well up toward the head of the banquet table and win for them some wonderfully fine prizes. Eddie Roush Is Weakening

CINCINNATI, O., April 4—Eddie Roush, hold-out centerfielder of the Cincinnati Nationals, is willing to eliminate his demand for a three-year contract, but will insist upon receiving $18,000 for the season. This, according to dispatches received here, was the report Ivy Wingo delivered to Manager Moran yesterday when the teams reassembled at Indianapolis.

Wingo, who had a long talk with Roush at Evansville, said the outfielder seemed to be set on this amount, notwithstanding the declaration of the team through its board of directors, that no advance over the $15,000 he received last season would be paid.

John Scott, pitcher, who was left in a sick bed at Mineral Wells, Texas, rejoined the team last night and was out for practice today.

The Reds are booked for games with the Hoosiers at Indianapolis today and tomorrow.

Columbus To Get Title Bout

COLUMBUS, April 4—Columbus is going to have an opportunity on May 15 at the Fairmont arena to see a real title bout, in which middleweight honors will be involved. Messrs. Sully and Albanese, backers of this organization, announced Tuesday that Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight champion, would box Bryan Downey, recognized by all Ohioans and many of the state boxing commissions as the legitimate titleholder, 12 rounds to a referee's decision.

Ryan and Jackson Winners

CINCINNATI, April 4—Billy Ryan, Cincinnati welterweight, won the decision over Johnny Wolgast, also of Cincinnati, in 10 rounds. "Tut" Jackson, Washington C. H. negro heavyweight, knocked out Darky Hall in second round of ten round bout.

Sensible Ruling

YOUNGSTOWN, April 4—Boxers from outside Ohio may no longer bring their referees, Ohio State Association of Boxing Commissioners decided at semi-annual meeting, at which it was also decided to license all referees and officials.

Senators Beaten

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 4.—Boston Nationals, 3; 8; 1. Washington Americans, 2; 5; 3. Oeschger, Watson and Gowdy, O'Neil; Phillips Zachary and Gharrity.

Singles Tournament Opens

In the Masonic League singles Monday only eight bowlers participated with only one of the eight showing any better than the season's average.

Six of the eight fell down, getting an average below their season's average. Sheridan, who finished as the leader in the Masonic league averages for the season with .571, only averaged 157 in three games yesterday. Cox was the only man to make a decided better showing. In his three games he had an average of 184 while he finished the season with an average of 142. The tourney scores:

Authorized To Sell Church

Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Tuesday granted the application of George F. Emrich and other trustees of the First Church of Christ Scientist to sell the church property situated at 820 Second street and apply the proceeds to the purchase of a building site for a new church building. The trustees were represented by Atorney A. T. Holcomb.

Kirkendall On Trial

Amos Kirkendall, Rushtown man, was put on trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Tuesday morning under an indictment charging him with abandonment of his daughter, Beatrice, aged 13 years.

Evidence was adduced by the state showing that the defendant had contributed very little towards the support of his daughter during the time covered by the indictment, August 12, 1921, to March 2, 1922.

The testimony offered by the defense showed that Kirkendall was badly injured in a fall down a stairway last August and that he had since been almost totally incapacitated for doing only light work since. The defendant denied that he had been able to support the child by reason of his labor and earnings, declaring that a part of the time he was incapacitated and at other times was unable to find employment. He claimed that as long as he had any money he had divided it with his wife and daughters. He was represented by Attorney W. L. Dickey.

Back On the Job

Miss Georginez Cook, who has been detained at her home for over three months by illness, has recovered and resumed her duties as bookkeeper in the office of Auditor Roy Coburn at the court house.

Inspected Infirmary

Commissioners J. Appel, W. O. Shively and Jacob Kuhner and Auditor Roy Coburn Tuesday visited the county infirmary on the occasion of making the regular monthly inspection of the institution and the officials were entertained at dinner by Superintendent and Mrs. William Weidner.

Judgment Awarded

Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Monday awarded the Farmers Bank and Savings company of Peebles judgment against W. H. Carrigan in the sum of $837.63 on a cognovit note. The bank was represented by Attorney W. L. Hostetter.

Chaffin File Answer

For cross petition and answer to the divorce and alimony suit of Cynthia Chaffin, Thad Chaffin, 311 Chillicothe street employed at the N. and W. shops, denies her charges and through Attorney J. T. Micklethwait accuses the wife of cruelty and infidelity and names one Charles Rice. Chaffin asks that he may be given the divorce.

Wife Given Divroce

An approved entry was filed in the office of the clerk of courts Tuesday in the case of Olive McGuire against Daniel McGuire and which grants the plaintiff a decree for divorce on the ground of neglect. The defendant was also ordered to pay his former wife $3 a week for the support of their minor child. Judge Thomas heard the case some weeks ago and then held it up for investigation. Attorney T. C. Beatty for the wife.

Powers Trial Wednesday

The trial of Earl Powers, city patrolman, charged with manslaughter in connection with the alleged unlawful killing of Charles "Frenchy" Levernier on February 18, last, is scheduled to start before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Wednesday morning.

Levernier died from a skull fracture and the prosecution claims the fatal injury was inflicted by Powers knocking Levernier down with a fist blow. The accused denies that he is in any way responsible or to blame for Levernier's death.

Attorney B. F. Kimble will defend the accused and Prosecutor Sheppard will handle the case for the state.

STYLE SHOW AT COLUMBIA BIG SUCCESS

Hundreds of people were lined up in front of the Columbia theatre last night waiting in turn to get in for the first show which was to start with the Style Promenade by Kline's promptly at seven o'clock.

Every seat in the house was taken and a great number were glad to have standing room so as to be allowed to get a glimpse of the Promenade which truthfully saying was a big success. The season's newest creations were displayed by seven charming young ladies who wore them beautifully and evoked repeated applause from the vast assemblage which was thoroughly interested in the entire performance.

A feature, too, was Davison's orchestra, it played as everyone present would admit, in perfect harmony with the captivating showing by the models.

At nine o'clock, after the picture "Peacock Alley" had been shown, the large crowd outside of the Columbia then had a chance for admission. Then the Style Promenade was repeated proving as popular as the first showing.

COST OF THOUGHTLESSNESS

THE other evening, at dusk, a driver raced an unlighted truck down a broad, traffickless street. A little dog, frightened, was in the street. The truck kept straight, though there was room to pass, struck the dog, crushed it. There were tears that night in a quiet home and heart wounds were opened that will be long in healing.

A chattering miss, with careless laugh and appraising eyes, made sport of the humble dress of a tired shop-girl hanging to a strap. She did not think her jests would be heard. They were. The tired girl flushed, her thin lips quivered and pride choked back the tears. She went to her dull, drab room and sobbed that night.

What a train of sorrow our thoughtlessness leaves. Thoughtless words, thoughtless deeds, thoughtless omissions. Well did Wordsworth cry:

> Ah, what a warning for a thoughtless man,
> Could field or grave, could any spot of earth,
> Show to his eye an image of the pangs
> Which it hath witnessed.

What a frail thing is this our happiness! How delicate the fabric of our joys! How fragile the pitcher we would fill at Life's rich well!

Does the thoughtless creature, blunderingly jostling all who cross his path, eventually come to justice? Assuredly. He who consistently is careless of others will some time be careless of those who are near and dear to him. And he will know a meed of the bitter anguish he has sown.

Have we any safeguard against the unthinking churl? Only this, that we avoid him when we can and so dedicate ourselves to bringing a full measure of contentment to others that the shafts of Fate may lose some force against our armor of high resolve.

Said Cowper:

> I would not enter on my list of friends
> (Though graced with polish'd manners and fine sense,
> Yet wanting sensibility) the man
> Who needlessly sets foot upon a worm.

Then avoiding the unthinking, and considerately governing our own conduct that it may make many happy and none distressed, we may find our spirit deepened with resource for every need.

THE NEWSPAPER GUIDE

THE newspaper that carries a good line of advertisements is to the shopper what the time table is to the traveler and the published guide is to the tourist. Busy people will study these advertisements in the home or in the office as they do a time table, and before they start out shopping they have determined where they are going.

The newcomer or the visitor in the city finds the advertising columns of a newspaper a reliable guide to follow, just as he finds the printed guide for tourists to points of interest a matter of interest and time-saving. In fact, the stores, the mills and the theatres are points of interest to all tourists, and the non-advertiser puts himself outside the pale of interest so far as strangers are concerned.

YEARNINGS AND EARNINGS

THE safest rule of thrift and economy—and therefore of practical business—is to keep the yearnings within the earnings. This applies not only to the individual's income and expenditures, but to the business concern and government, whether state or municipal or national as well.

A man who makes a dollar a day and saves a quarter is a better financial risk than one who makes 20 dollars a day and spends 25.

And the individual or concern which guards the expenditures so they are always within the income is more times than not the man or the concern that steadily increases the income. Niggardliness and parsimony is absent from real economy. It is generally good business to expend liberally rather than in a niggardly manner. Thrift is not in denying the necessary expenditures which must be made if there is to be development and healthy growth.

The elimination of waste, the careful inspection of expenditures to locate leaks, the system that knows where the money goes and that it gets value in return—that is the principle of economies which always accompanies the ability to increase steadily the sources of income.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

JOSEPH'S DREAM

JOSEPH dreamed a dream and he told it to his brethern and they hated him yet more. "For behold, we were binding sheaves in the field and lo my sheaf stood upright and behold your sheaves stood round about and made obeisance to my sheaf."

He dreamed yet another dream and told it to his brethern "Behold, the sun, moon and eleven stars made obeisance to me." And his brethern envied him.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 4.—It is small wonder that Broadway is the beckoning beacon for so many scarlet sisters. A squirrel coat, an evening costume and a make-up box—and a megenta maiden may crash into any gathering. The refinements of life are listed on Broadway as non-essentials. Clothes make the lady.

A star in a Hoochy-Coochy Cabaret is welcomed in Broadway circles with more gusto than one who has achieved fame in the arts. Perhaps the Freudians would class it as the "inferiority complex." But sub-rosa pasts are old-fashioned. The aura of scandal is even sought.

Mary scandal weeklies get information for their salacious gossip from the victims themselves who desire, least of all, secrecy. They would herald it in flaming lights, if it were possible, and thereby excite the froth of Broadway's envy.

A popular gay sprite of the White Way attended a dinner the other night at which sat several men of affairs. She spoke of a certain popular rendezvous—pronouncing it "ren-des-vouse." And when she sat down at the table she parked a wad of gum under her chair. She wasn't clowning. Just a Dumb Dora.

The submerged Rabelais in modern Babylon is never frowned upon just as long as it goes to the best tailors. The woman who can gleam with jewels need have no fear of supercilious lifts of brows on account of any hectic affairs of heart.

The most popular hostess at a midnight supper club is a young girl who was arrested for a neat job of shop-lifting at 17, caught flagrante delicto in a Badger game at 20 and is the common law wife of a notorious and twice convicted confidence man.

The other night I saw her dancing with the son of a man whose genius in empire building is historic. He is reported to have established her in a marble palace in West End Avenue. She is the one who, in Parisian costumes of the finest fabric, nightly welcomes the social great of the city to her exclusive haunt.

One of the newest methods of the movie and stage folk to land on the first pages is to have their press agents "rumor" them on the verge of a divorce. With the denial they get a chance to spout their undying love, their idyllic home life—and perhaps a picture of the blue breakfast room and the favorite town car. Three have successfully launched their fervent denials during the past week.

New York is getting all excited about its public statues. It is so used to awakening almost any morning and seeing some artistic atrocity sculped on its front door-step that it is a wonder it has not rebelled before. Public hearings are being held on the MacMonnies statue "Civic Virtue" for City Hall Park. And of course the mayor had to pull the classic bromide: "I don't know much about art but I know what I like." Or else—well, anyway—the lions in front of the Public Library should be the first to go. And next the statue of Shakespeare in Central Park, which looks for all the world like Little Sureshot the Pride of the Prairie, sniffing the Indians from afar. The bronze of Greeley in Greeley Square might be taken for almost anything or anybody—save, of course, Greeley. The finest bit of public art in New York to my way of thinking is the Washington Square Arch. And there are rumors that it may soon be torn down to make way for something a little more gaudy.

All Is Well

> And all is well, though faith and form
> Be sundered in the night of fear:
> Well roars the storm to those that hear
> A deeper voice across the storm.
>
> Oh, yet we trust that somehow good
> Will be the final goal of ill,
> To pangs of nature, sins of will,
> Defects of doubt, and taints of blood:
>
> That nothing walks with aimless feet:
> That not one life shall be destroyed
> Or cast as rubbish to the void,
> When God hath made the pile complete:
>
> That not a worm is cloven in vain:
> That not a moth with vain desire
> Is shriveled in a fruitless fire,
> Or but subserves another's gain.
>
> Behold! we know not anything:
> I can but trust that good shall fall
> At last—far off—at last, to all,
> And every winter change to spring.

Does This Hit You?

An evangelist had tacked to a tree at the intersection of two roads a sign bearing this advice: "Prepare to meet thy God."

And then along came a man from the State highways department who placed a sign right below it with the single word: "Detour."

The Meanest Man

The meanest man has been found. He married a home girl to save expenses, took her for a street car ride as a bridal trip, bought a nickel's worth of stick candy for a wedding present, then suggested that they save it for the children.—New York Tribune.

A New One

A dry goods merchant in a small town in the South was standing one day at the door of his shop when a little girl came up to him.

"I am Mabel Smith," she said, "and mother says will you give her change for half a dollar. She will send the half-dollar on Monday."

The Flip Flapper

"Now, Midge, I'm not squeamish, but if you want to make a good impression upon my aunt, you've got to peel off some of that war-paint. She doesn't so much as powder her nose."

"Why, Tommy, what a shining example of old-fashioned virtue your aunt must be!"—from Judge.

Vaudeville Arithmetic

By Jeanne Davis

Four smiles equal one titter; two titters, one giggle; three giggles, one snort; two snorts, one roar; three roars, one howl; two howls, one scream; five screams, one wow; six wows, one riot!

Fine for the Burglars

"How did it come you did not hear the burglars when they got into your house?"

My husband snores so loud it would drown out the noise of a boiler factory."

His Definition

"What does college bred mean, dad?" asked ten-year-old Johnny.

Father looked up from a perusal of his eldest son's college expenses, and answered tersely: "Merely a big loaf, Johnny."

Real Service

"Is this car easy to start?" asked the prospective buyer.

"As easy as an argument," replied the salesman.

You will not place your elbows on the table while a meal is in progress.

You will not toy with your silverware or clink glasses together at the table.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Unreasonable

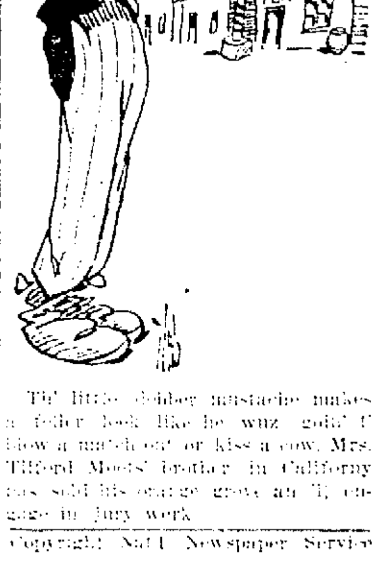

"Say, waiter," growled the disgruntled patron, "there isn't a single oyster in this so-called oyster stew!"

"Well, sir," the man responded, "if you'd ordered cottage pudding, you wouldn't have expected to find a cottage in the dish, nor would you look for a horse in the horse-radish bottle, now would you?"

The Hired Man
